Emerald Publishing is an independent, award-winning publisher of academic research and thought leadership authored by some of the best known global academic and industry minds. The Social Sciences portfolio contains over 1,200 titles with content covering topics that resonate with the real world.

Subject coverage

Our Social Sciences Portfolio houses a diverse collection of titles across education and sociology. From education administration, inclusivity and technology in learning to criminology, social media and cultural diversity, these titles cover both research and theory as well as offer practice guidance, encourage debate and question the society in which we live.

Expert authorship from academia and practice

Chris Brown – author of several Emerald books including Educating Tomorrow: Learning for the Post-Pandemic World and The Networked School Leader: How to Improve Teaching and Student Outcomes using Learning Networks. Brown is Professor in Education at the School of Education, Durham University, UK. He is widely recognized for his innovative work driving forward our understanding as to how education can be improved.

Alana Mann - author of Food in a Changing Climate. Mann is an Associate Professor in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences and the Sydney Environment Institute at the University of Sydney. A political economist in food studies, her research focuses on the international food sovereignty movement and other efforts to democratise food systems.

Natalia Kurcicova - author of The Future of The Self: Understanding Personalization in Childhood and Beyond. Kucirkova is Professor of Early Childhood Education and Development at the University of Stavanger, Norway and Professor of Reading and Children's Development at The Open University, UK. She is also a past Emerald Real Impact Award winner.

Christian Fuchs – author of Communicating COVID-19: Everyday Life, Digital Capitalism, and Conspiracy Theories in Pandemic Times. Fuchs is a critical theorist and Professor of media and communication studies at the University of Westminster, UK. His work focuses on digital media and society, the political economy of communication, communication theory, and critical social theory. He is the editor of the journal tripleC: Communication, Capitalism & Critique and author of many books.
