SAKARYA SUMMER SCHOOL

Conflict Resolution in Theory and Practice: The Russia-Ukraine War and Türkiye's Role in Peacemaking Sakarya, Türkiye, August 2022

The Middle East Institute (ORMER) is pleased to announce its first summer school: Conflict Resolution in Theory and Practice: The Russia-Ukraine War and Türkiye's Role in Peacemaking. At this event, participants will explore major and critical aspects of the ongoing conflict in Ukraine, in a diverse range of sessions, and give an in-depth knowledge of the main areas of analysis regarding the global efforts for resolution of the conflict. They will have an overall understanding of the tireless diplomatic manoeuvres to find negotiated political solutions.

The programme comprises a combination of lectures and interactive small-group discussions. All the sessions will be presented from the viewpoints of politicians, diplomats, analysts, academics and distinguished faculty professors at Sakarya Summer School.

Participants will get the chance to share the knowledge of insiders and insights that explain the challenges and opportunities of politics of war and, above all, the diplomatic efforts as a track to find an amicable solution to the conflict. In this regard, the event is a true opportunity to engage, learn, understand, and contribute to the discussion in the broader framework of the conflict in Ukraine and its origins.

In offering this timely event, we strongly believe that this is a great opportunity to get all about what you are looking for on this important subject, given the prominence that Türkiye is undertaking in diplomacy and her unwavering efforts in bringing the Russian and Ukrainian counterparts to the negotiating table.

We are calling you, and all those interested in gaining knowledge of the origins of the history and politics of the Russia-Ukraine war, to take the chance of joining our one-of-a-kind vibrant event, and be part of a diverse community of diplomats, professionals, journalists, academics and motivated graduate students to satisfy your intellectual curiosity, make new friends from around the world, and explore the many facets of Sakarya and Lake Sapanca unforgettable offerings.

We are confident that the discussions, interactions and ideas shared amongst the participants will be extremely stimulating, thought-provoking, enriching, valuable, and rewarding. In addition, when we finish the days of the workshop, we all go home, or back to our workplace, with a far better understanding of the issue at hand, and much more about regional and global conflicts and possible resolutions.

The sessions will include the following issues:
